

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by old man joe - 2010/02/08 17:17

in the RC Catechism they say... continuing in sin is a sign of being without God, yet, Roman Catholic doctrine states that salvation comes through ceremonial baptism performed by them, of course, yet these show not a single good work evidencing genuine salvation... The Lord himself affirms that Baptism is necessary for salvation. He also commands his disciples to proclaim the Gospel to all nations and to baptize them. Baptism is necessary for salvation for those to whom the Gospel has been proclaimed and who have had the possibility of asking for this sacrament. The Church does not know of any means other than Baptism that assures entry into eternal beatitude; this is why she takes care not to neglect the mission she has received from the Lord to see that all who can be baptized are reborn of water and the Spirit. God has bound salvation to the sacrament of Baptism, but he himself is not bound by his sacraments.

 when the Catholic (and other's) speak of baptism they means water baptism just as their traditions note from the above quote. here it is said that water Baptism is necessary for salvation... which it is not. the Bible doesn't teach it... the Lord has not given water Baptism only so the smart can be saved... who have the possibility of asking for this sacrament. the criminal crucified with Christ was no where said in the Bible to have been baptized, yet that self same day he was taken into Paradise... this is because faith alone justifies, not works. Ro. 3:28; Gal. 2:16 since these say that Baptism is necessary for salvation and that the Church does not know of any means other than Baptism that assures entry into eternal beatitude, they openly admit they are not saved at all, none of them, because the Baptism which saves is done without hands by the Holy Spirit at the instant a person is elect unto salvation.. Mk. 1:8; Lk.20:4-8; Jn. 1:33 this also means that Abel, Noah, Job, Abraham, Moses, all the people of Nineveh and everyone else who were elect of God unto life eternal in the OT... long before Baptism was ever introduced, are not saved. yet, Moses appears on the mount of Transfiguration talking with Jesus. this also means that a baby dying at birth can not enter into eternal beatitude ... but rather, must burn in torment in Limbo all the while at least 4 prophets are spoken of in the OT as being elect unto eternal life as fetuses. when the RCC speaks of Baptism it means ceremonial baptism. ceremonial Baptism saves no one from ' Original Sin ' as the RCC claim's, nor does it ' forgive all personal sins as well as punishment for sin ' as the RCC claims. this conflicts with their own teaching of Penance as well as direct testimony of John who writes... If we say that we have no sin, we are deceiving ourselves and the truth is not in us.. 1 Jn. 1:8 getting back to Baptism as being necessary for salvation , this means that only the well in mind can be saved through ceremonial baptism. in RC thinking, the mentally impaired can not be saved since one must ask to be Baptized according to their teachings... yet another doctrine of co-redemption designed for the smart, only. such is anti-Christian teaching that ceremonial baptism is necessary for salvation . the more one reads the RC Catechism concerning Baptism the more he's convinced that the intent is like that of Simon in Acts chapter 8 who wanted the power to impart the Holy Spirit through the laying on of his hands. these want the power to forgive sin and impart salvation through ceremonies ministered by themselves. to teach such gives the adherents a completely false sense of security that by some man made ceremony a person is absolved from all sin. if this is the case, why are they still in the world and worshipping idols ? By Baptism all sins are forgiven, original sin and all personal sins, as well as all punishment for sin. In those who have been reborn nothing remains that would impede their entry into the Kingdom of God, neither Adam's sin, nor personal sin, nor the consequences of sin, the gravest of which is separation from God. so says the RC Catechism... there is no need for Jesus Christ in such heretical circles. just stop by your local RCC for complete absolution of all your sins. sounds like an ecclesiastical car wash but for the soul. The Church does not know of any means other than Baptism that assures entry into eternal beatitude; this is why she takes care not to neglect the mission she has received from the Lord to see that all who can be baptized are reborn of water and the Spirit. in this part of the Catechism ' born again ' or ' born from above ' or reborn of water and the Spirit ' is replaced by ceremonial baptism. the reference is to John 3 where Jesus talks about being born from above to a worldly Pharisee. confounded by Jesus' teaching to a man who knew only ceremonies as a means to salvation, the fleshly priest does not understand how God could possibly save anyone without the priests intervention. the priest did not understand Jonah 2:9... Salvation is of the LORD. and so it is with everyone who redesigns genuine salvation from a work of God to the work of man through ceremonies. now, Baptism with water as a ceremony places one into the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit as in Matt. 28:19 and is not to be assumed it is the washing of regeneration. when Peter, in Acts 2:38,39 declares to his listeners to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ its because of the remission of sins... because of... not in order that. Baptism didn't do a thing for Judas. this is consistent with Jonah 2:9... Salvation is of the Lord , otherwise, the abuses of arrogant men would surely show itself in performing ceremonies giving the people a false hope that they are saved when they are not. after all, they are still worshipping idols. the Lord God gets all the glory for the salvation made without hands He alone provides and He alone performs. man, has nothing to do with it for The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear the sound of it, but cannot tell where it comes from and where it goes. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit. Jo.3:8 those who are water baptized and not saved think, speak and act the things of this world. they still go about filling the lusts of their flesh, worshipping idols, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind while those who are saved and are water baptized think, speak and act the things of God simply because Baptism by the Holy Spirit made without the hands of man is what saves. they grow in the knowledge of the Lord by reading, studying, pondering and believing the Word of the Lord. they are grieved when they fail Him. they know from studying the Word that Johns baptism did not forgive sin but the Baptism of the Holy Spirit does. they know that John the Baptist was filled with the Holy Spirit from his mothers womb and that there is no account of John ever being baptized with the water. they know that the criminal crucified with Christ was not baptized. they know that no ceremony can forgive sin but that the washing of regeneration preformed by a Sovereign God by an act of mercy, love and grace on His part is in view when Divine baptism is spoken of in Holy Scripture... like unto a circumcision made without hands : In Him you were also circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, buried with Him in baptism, in which you also were raised with Him through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead. Col.2:11,12. Baptism with water is an outward sign of an inward Baptism done by the Holy Spirit effecting being born from above. the faith which saves, that is, having been given the faith of Jesus Christ by which the elect and they alone are justified (Ga. 2:16) is the direct result in the working of God ... not man... both witnesses agree... Col. 2:11,12 cp Jn. 6:28,29.

=====

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by duke - 2010/02/08 17:17

in the RC Catechism they say... continuing in sin is a sign of being without God, yet, Roman Catholic doctrine states that salvation comes through ceremonial baptism preformed by them, of course, yet these show not a single good work evidencing genuine salvation... The Lord himself affirms that Baptism is necessary for salvation. He also commands his disciples to proclaim the Gospel to all nations and to baptize them. Baptism is necessary for salvation for those to whom the Gospel has been proclaimed and who have had the possibility of asking for this sacrament. Actually, you chick tract worshippers are the one using ceremonial baptism, well proclaiming that it's symbolic only. The Dukester, American-American  The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

=====

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by Fred Thomas - 2010/02/08 17:17

 The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

=====

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by duke - 2010/02/08 17:17

Which is what the RCC does, what does a baby have to repent of? Fouling up the mothers uterus? Nothing, but protestant infants are out of luck if they die young. The Dukester, American-American  The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

=====

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by Fred Thomas - 2010/02/08 17:17

 The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

=====

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by Thommadura - 2010/02/08 17:17

in the RC Catechism they say... continuing in sin is a sign of being without God, yet, Roman Catholic doctrine states that salvation comes through ceremonial baptism preformed by them, of course, yet these show not a single good work evidencing genuine salvation... The Lord himself affirms that Baptism is necessary for salvation. He also commands his disciples to proclaim the Gospel to all nations and to baptize them. Baptism is necessary for salvation for those to whom the Gospel has been proclaimed and who have had the possibility of asking for this sacrament. Actually, you chick tract worshippers are the one using ceremonial baptism, well proclaiming that it's symbolic only. Baptizing baby's IS A CEREMONIAL BAPTISM. Nope. According to scripture, infants are 1) cleansed of the sin nature by being buried to sin with Jesus, 2) must be baptized in order to enter the Kingdom of God in the case of infant death, and 3) Jesus well said the kingdom belongs to the children. Cites????? The fact is there is nothing in scripture of infants being baptized. There is also Acts 2:38. And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. Acts 22:16. And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name. A infant can not repent, nor does an infant have anything to repent of, as you confirmed. Which is what the RCC does, what does a baby have to repent of? Fouling up the mothers uterus? Nothing, but protestant infants are out of luck if they die young. More superstitious stupidity. The whole basis for the religion is absurd - Obviously - the adam and eve story is a LEGEND - and not a reality. IT has huge holes in it alone - not including the fact that humans existed on earth long before the supposed time of creation of 4004BCE in the timeline of the bible. Then - an all good and all just god that nevertheless created both the devil and hell - also blames all humans for a sin that a fictitious person (eve) supposedly committed - even though the god does not blame the son for the sins of the father= because he is all just and all fair. Then = for no apparent reason since the myth of original sin is nonsense - this god sends his son - who is actually him in another disguise - down to earth to settle to score so that the almighty father - who is also the son - can forgive a sin no one alive committed. And - to prove his love for his people (who are supposed to be the jews) - he allows a third party not involved in the nonsense to kill his son - who is himself - on a cross - even though as god he cannot die or be killed. Then - when NO ONE was there to see it - he rose from the dead - of course he was NEVER dead since a god cannot die. He then spent the rest of the time hiding from all but HIS followers - and then one day - took his human body to a spiritual place where none are needed - to make sure no one could establish that he lived and died! As far as baptism - there is NO need - since the christ already died to save them from their sins - so the are already saved and no longer need to be baptized - if they ever did to begin with

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by duke - 2010/02/08 17:17

Baptizing baby's IS A CEREMONIAL BAPTISM. Nope. According to scripture, infants are 1) cleansed of the sin nature by being buried to sin with Jesus, 2) must be baptized in order to enter the Kingdom of God in the case of infant death, and 3) Jesus well said the kingdom belongs to the children. Cites????? The fact is there is nothing in scripture of infants being baptized. Of course there is, but you wouldn't know the difference. The Dukester, American-American  The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by Fred Thomas - 2010/02/08 17:17

 The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshipping idols ?

Posted by duke - 2010/02/08 17:17

On Fri, 29 Jan 2010 17:13:30 -0500, Fred Thomas<f...@aol.com> wrote: Baptizing baby's IS A CEREMONIAL BAPTISM. Nope. According to scripture, infants are 1) cleansed of the sin nature by being buried to sin with Jesus, 2) must be baptized in order to enter the Kingdom of God in the case of infant death, and 3) Jesus well said the kingdom belongs to the children. Cites????? The fact is there is nothing in scripture of infants being baptized. Of course there is, but you wouldn't know the difference. There you go again lying. But I know what the bible says about children. The Dukester, American-American  The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****

=====
sin nature If water Baptism saves as the RC Catechism says why are they still worshiping idols ?

Posted by Fred Thomas - 2010/02/08 17:17

 The Mass is the most perfect form of Prayer. Pope Paul VI *****
